You can take this quiz only one time. Are you ready?

Student A : Wait a minute, Mr. James. If someone can answer the quiz correctly, could you give him or her something sweet?

Student B : That's a good idea! Please, Mr. James!

Mr. James : Well...All right. I'll give you very delicious chocolate chip cookies.

Students : Yeah!!

Mr. James : Do your best! Let's start! The title of the quiz is, "What is the name of the country?" Listen to me carefully. I'll give you the first hint of the quiz. This country produces some natural *resources: *coal, fish, *timber and so on. Fruits such as oranges and lemons grow in the south.

Student B : China!

Mr. James : Sorry, it's not the correct answer. You can't answer any more.

The next hint is... In this country, the longest river is *the River Loire.

It generally has cool winters and mild summers. However, along the *Mediterranean they have hot summers.

Student B : I think it's in Europe. Wine? Yes! I got it! Oh, I've already answered one time.

Ma. James : Oops! Do not tell the answer to the other students.

Student B : Ahhh... I want to eat the cookies!

Student A : Yes! Mr. James! Is it Germany? My father said it's famous for wine.

Mr. James : No, it isn't. The River Loire isn't there. The last hint! It has the highest mountain in Europe. Its name is Mont Blanc. And it is also famous for the bicycle race and the tall tower called the *Eiffel Tower.

Student C : Mont Blanc? I think it is Italy, isn't it?

Mr. James : Sorry. It's not the answer. Does anybody know?

[3] 次の英文は、ケンタが英語の時間に発表したものです。これを読み、後の問に答えなさい。

We have many kinds of difficult problems in the world today. After we studied about some of them in class, I'm especially interested in problems about global warming and food loss, because we see both problems in our everyday life. (ア)
I'll tell you about them and I would like to introduce what I am doing for the problems.

First, have you ever heard the phrase, global warming? What is happening on the earth now? As we all know, it was very hot last summer. Don't you feel the earth is becoming hotter and hotter? Actually, it is. The ice on the earth is melting and the sea level is becoming higher. It is called global warming. What causes global warming? Using fossil fuels such as oil makes a lot of CO₂. CO₂ in the air makes the earth hotter. Actually the problems are getting closer to everyday life. (イ)

(ウ) Here I would like to introduce the action I am taking to reduce CO₂. Last month I joined a volunteer group to clean our town. When I was cleaning a park near my house, I was very surprised that there were many used plastic bags there. In class, we learned that plastic bags are made from oil, so I decided not to use them anymore. When I go shopping, I use my favorite eco-bag. Do you still use plastic bags? Please stop doing so for the earth.

Second, I'll talk about food loss. I watched a special TV program about food problems last week. It said that we all have enough food on the earth, but one out of nine people is suffering from hunger in the world. People in some other countries need more food to live. During the last part of the TV program, I saw a report about convenience stores that threw away food that was not sold by a certain date. Most of 1 it was still good enough to eat. The other day my family went to a buffet-style restaurant and saw some people take a lot of food, but not eat it all. 2 We (about / don't / people / think / have / who / enough food / should) and stop wasting so much food.

Here are some things we can do to reduce food loss :

- 1) Check food in the refrigerator before you buy food.
- 2) Only buy food when you really need it.
- 3) Peel vegetable skin and fruit skin thinly.
- 4) Cook only the amount you can eat.
- 5) Use leftover food for other dishes.

One of my hobbies is cooking. Last Saturday, I made curry rice for dinner. We usually put potatoes and onions into the curry, but I put in some leftover food which I found in the refrigerator. You may think it unusual, but I used tofu and cucumbers. Actually, my family really enjoyed eating the curry rice. The next day, I put Japanese udon noodles into the curry and made another dish. This is my action for the problem. (エ)

Changing our way of life is not easy. When you think about what to do for the earth, some of you may try to do a 3() and difficult thing. But we have to find ways to save the earth. A small thing you do will be a large one if many people do it. Please do a small and easy thing first like me. Your small idea may become a big one and it may save the earth in the future.
